TO KNOW WHERE THE SIGN IS.—First find the day of the month, and against it, in the 7th column, stands the sign the moon is in; then finding the sign here, it shows the part of the body it is supposed to govern.

NOTES TO THE READER.

CLOCK TIME AND APPARENT TIME.

1st.—There are two kinds of time used in common Almanacs for the Sun's rising and setting: one is clock-time, and the other is sun-time, or apparent time. Clock-time is always correct; but apparent time varies every day, and is alternately too "fast" or too "slow" of the clock.

This Almanac is calculated in Apparent Time, and is in accordance with the old method. Almanacs in apparent time are known by the Sun's rising and setting when added, being equal to 12 hours; and at the time of its crossing the equator the rising and setting is at 6 o'clock. Such Almanacs are old fashioned, and are coming into disuse. They are not correct according to true time, and can be made so only by adding the amount the Sun is slow of the clock, and subtracting when it is "fast."

The Sun has not, since it was created, risen or set at six o'clock when it was at the equinoxes. And why? Because it does not come to the meridian at 12 o'clock at that time, a fact that is true for nearly every day in the year. The old idea that it is 12 o'clock when the shadow is at the noon-mark, is a mistaken one; and if time-pieces be set at 12 at those times they will not be correct, except on the 15th of April and June, September 1st, and December 24th. Noon and 12 o'clock are not the same.

The irregularity of the Sun's motions causes the two kinds of time, and, in consequence of this variation, no dependence can be placed on the Sun for true time without knowing when it is in the meridian. This information we give for this Almanac. See the Sun in Meridian, at the head of each Calendar page.

2d.—The rising, and setting of a star, may be carried several days backwards, by adding, or forwards, by subtracting four minutes per day.

3d.—As the days end at midnight, the rising, and setting of the Moon when after that time, will be found in the morning of the succeeding day, &c.

4th.—The times given for High Water are for that tide which succeeds the Moon's passage over the Meridian, and is computed from the United States' Coast Survey Tide Tables, and are correct. The winds will vary the tides.

V. MAY, begins on Thursday, hath 31 days. 1862.

Sow cabbages, beets, savoys, carrots, turnips, cauliflowerers, brocoli, celery, radishes. Plant snap-beans. Transplant cabbages. Prick out celery. REMARKS. There is not much probability of either beets, parsnips, carrots, turnips succeeding at this season, especially the last, yet if wanted, a few may be ventured—under very favorable circumstances they may succeed. If carrots be sown, the ground should be shaded and kept moist, and this protection continued for some time after they are up, or they will be killed by sun.

VI. JUNE, begins on Sunday, bath 30 days. 1862

Sow cauliflowers, brocoli, cabbages, carrots, tomatoes. Plant snap-beans, okra. Transplant celery, cabbages, leeks. Prick out cauliflowers, brocoli and celery. REMARKS.—This month is generally very dry and hot, and all of the crops recommended to be sown now, must be protected from the sun, most of them should have been sown in April, and it is only in case of failure, or omission that they should be now sown.

VII. JULY, begins on Tuesday, hath 31 days. 1862.

Sow early Dutch turnips, ruta бага, carrots, parsnips, cabbages, cauliflowers, brocoli, endive, radishes, spinach. Plant snap-beans, Irish potatoes, melons. Transplant cabbages, celery, cauliflowers, brocoli, tomatoes, and leeks. REMARKS—A few carrots, parsnips, spinach or radishes, should be sown, and while young, should be protected from the sun. The early Dutch turnips, should be sown in small quantities towards the last of the month. The Irish potatoes will be fit for use in October, and tomatoes when the spring sown crop ceases.

IX. SEPTEMBER, begins Monday, hath 30 days. 1862.

Sow early Dutch and other varieties of turnips, ruta baga, beets, Swiss chard, mangle wurtzel, carrots, parsnips, salsafy, luttuce, spinach, cabbages, (English seed,) onions, radishes, endive. Plant snap-beans. Transplant ruta bagas, cabbages, cauliflowers, brocoli, celery, luttuce, leeks, endive.

turnips, beets, carrots, parsnips, &c., should be sown, as they will acquire sufficient strength to withstand the cold weather before the winter sets in. When thinning out the ruta baga, the plants should be reserved and transplanted out into these spaces, where they have failed.

XII. DECEMBER, begins Monday, hath 31 days. 1862.

Sow peas, spinach, radishes, carrots, salsaty, luttuce, cabbages, beets, parsnips. Plant Irish potatoes, mazagon and windsor beans. Transplant cabbages, luttuce and onions. REMARKS.—Any of the varieties of peas may be sown in this month. The Irish potatoes will come up so early as to have their tops destroyed by frosts, but they will not be injured materially, if at all, by this. All seed sown during this month, except spinach, peas and beans, must be protected during the cold weather.

Requisites for Admission—A Certificate from two Physicians and a Magistrate, that the applicant is insane, an epileptic, or an idiot. A concise history of the case and the medical treatment to which the patient has been subjected; The rates vary from $250 to $700 per annum, payable in half yearly instalments in advance. A bond, with approved security, living within the State, to secure the regular payment of the dues, is required. The charge for persons of color the same as paupers.

It will be seen by reference to the Report of the Physician and Superintendent, that the year opened with 194 patients; 88 pay-patients, and 106 paupers; and of these, 99 were males, and 95 females. 69 have been received in the course of the year, and the whole number which has been under treatment, is 263. 37 have been discharged cured, 8 removed in an improved state, and 26 have died. Most of the dead had been long in a state of incurable disease, with broken down constitutions, and their speedy death was anticipated. On the 5th inst., there were 192 patients; of this number, 104 were paupers, and 88 pay-patients; 86 males, and 106 females.

The actual rise of the Tides depends on the strength and direction of the wind, and it not unfrequently happens that a Tide which would, independently of these, have been small, is higher than another, otherwise much greater. But when a Tide which arrives when the Sun and Moon are in favorable position for producing a great elevation, is still further increased by a very strong wind, the rise of the water will be uncommonly great, sufficient perhaps, to cause damage.

The interval called the Establishment of the Port, is the time which elapses between the southing of the Moon and the High Water, at a time when the Sun and Moon are both South at the same time. Now as the Establishment of the Port, if it were known, would enable us to find the time of high water at any time; so from a good Observation at the time of high water at any time, we can determine the Establishment of the Port. For many of our principal ports we have arrived at a close approximation in this respect. For Boston, 11h 7m. is now used as the Establishment of the Port; for New York, 8h 9m.; for Charleston, 7h 2m., &c.

The Table above, is corrected from the Official Tide Table, published by A. D. Bache, Superintendent United States Coast Survey. But only those ports, or places, indicated by an astrix (*) are corrected. The others remain as they have been for a long time, and are supposed to be nearly correct.
